

“ Aviation safety depends not only on parts — but also on people.

At Aircraft Component Supply B.V., we believe that protecting the health and safety of our employees, visitors, and partners is essential to achieving trust and reliability in everything we do. A safe workplace ensures safe operations and contributes to the integrity of our business.

Our commitment:

- Safety above all - no compromises, no shortcuts in protecting people.
- Healthy workplace - clean, organized facilities with safe storage and handling of all parts.
- Awareness & training - employees receive the knowledge and tools to work safely.
- Hazard control - risks in warehousing, packaging, shipping, and handling are identified and reduced.
- Emergency readiness - fire safety, first aid, and spill control are in place and maintained.
- Shared responsibility - every employee looks after their own safety and that of their colleagues.

We commit to full compliance with occupational health & safety regulations while continuously improving our practices. By safeguarding our people, we strengthen the trust that underpins everything we deliver.
